

WALLACE STOPS JIMMIE JOHNS IN THE FIRST ROUND

SACRAMENTO FLASH ENDS SCHEDULED SIX ROUNDER WITH HIS BIG RIGHT MIT

Johns Goes Down to Mat Five Times Before Being Counted Out; Ogdenite Gets First Knock-out of Career; Darren Gives Newey Mit Lesson; Bouts Good

JIMMIE JOHNS, the veteran of many a ring battle, accepted the first journey to slumberland in his entire career at the Wasatch Athletic club last night in the scheduled six round event with Billy Wallace, the socking expert of Sacramento. Wallace crashed Jones' jaw after the men had been in the ring fifteen seconds, sending the Ogdenite to the canvas for the count of three.

When Johns hit the canvas the entire building rocked. After taking the count of three he regained his feet only to be greeted by a right to the jaw and a left to the stomach. This time Johns went down for the count of five. Regaining his feet Johns attempted to go into a clinch with Wallace, the Sacramento boxer again landing his famous right to the jaw. Johns crumpling up in a heap. This battering ram of punishment, however, failed to stop the veteran. He made his last attempt to survive the first round—by hearing the clang of the bell—to have one minute which would aid him in regaining his strength for a comeback. He was up fast but the powerful right hand of the California expert hit its target fifteen times in succession. Johns finally going out for the count.

WALLACE SOCKS. The end in this bout came before the majority of the fans had had time to cast their optics in the padded square. Wallace just simply waded in, as he had said he would, and his first punch ended hostilities as it rocked Johns, making him groggy and a target for the speedy coaster, who was quick to take advantage of the openings offered.

The battle last night closed a week of losses for Johns. Last Monday night at Salt Lake Midget Smith administered a severe boxing lesson to the Ogdenite, gaining a decision handsily in a six-round main event. Wallace went Smith one better by ending the fracas early in the first round.

HIS FIRST K. O. Johns has battled some good boys during his career but Wallace is the first youngster to score a knock-out over the Ogden star. Johns perhaps took more punishment in this first round than he has ever taken in any 12 ordinary rounds.

The Johns-Wallace melee was but one of five snappy events. In the six-round semiwindup, Frankie Darren, welterweight champion of the state, substituted for Bill Glasemann, who is confined to his bed with the "flu" and administered a severe boxing lesson to one "Red" Newey of Salt Lake.

Newey started out in good style but evidently forgot his chief assistant Darren outclassed him in all departments in the final five rounds of the mill.
